

A. Huxleyi

This feathered dinosaur is thought to be the oldest known feathered dinosaur - older than the 150 million year old Archaeopteryx. It was about the size of a peacock and adorned with feathers over its forelimbs, feet and low legs. It lived in what is now Northeastern China between 151 and 161 million years ago.