

Proto Whale

This 47.5 million year-old creature is an ancestor to modern whales. Its fossils found in what is now Pakistan, it was a land animal that probably spend most of it's time in the water. It had big teeth for catching fish and flipper-like feet for swimming. Draw what you think its environment looked like back then.

